Junior Docent 'Peer Mentor' Overview

Purpose: The Junior Docent Program offers opportunities for teenagers to learn about science through hands-on engagement in the New Mexico Museum of Natural History and Science. The goal of the Peer Mentor is to provide Junior Docents with a history of excellent service within the JD Program the opportunity to hone teaching and communication skills through role-modeling and to be a resource for his/her peers, both returning and new JDs.

Job Description:

- Staffing carts during work shifts and participating in special projects.
- Model to all Junior Docents best practices in science education, engaging with the public, and maintaining carts.
- Assist in training during JD training week and throughout the summer.
- Be a teen leader with special projects.
- Work closely with Junior Docents to hone skills and troubleshoot issues on a one-to-one basis.

Minimum qualifications:

- Participated in JD program for at least 2 summers
- Must have completed freshman year of High School (or home school equivalent)
- Show initiative, curiosity, and demonstrate a solid understanding of exhibit carts and their background content.
- Illustrated strong ability to work with people of all ages in front line customer service settings.
- Preference will be given to JD's who work at the Museum during the school year.

Selection Process:

1. Submit complete Junior Docent AND Peer Mentor applications by March 15, 2018
2. Have a Peer Mentor Interview
3. If selected, attend the Peer Mentor Training/Orientation – May 27rd
